DOCUMENT SPECIFICATIONS:
- APA Document Format.
- Bibliography: At least 15 references (not counted in the original page limit)

SECTIONS:

1. Introduction (2-3 pages):
   - Brief overview of the proposed research project.
   - Contextualize the research within the broader field of refugee and migration studies.
   - Clearly state the problem of statement, significance of the study and its scope and limitations.

2. Research Objectives, Questions and Hypothesis (1 page):
   - Clearly state the research objectives.
   - Formulate research questions (at least two primary questions or a single primary question with multiple sub questions)
   - Provide Hypothesis.

3. Detailed Methodology (3 pages):
   - Explain the research design, providing a rationale for its selection.
   - Outline data collection tools, sample size determination, geographical focus, and data analysis software.
   - Ensure clarity on the methodological approach adopted.

6. Budget Breakdown (1 page):
   - Present a detailed breakdown of the budget, specifying how the grant funds will be utilized.
   - Include line items such as research materials, travel expenses, and any other relevant costs.

7. Policy Implications (1 page):
   - Discuss potential policy implications of the research findings.
   - Clearly articulate how the research can contribute to policy development or modification.

8. Chapterization (1 page):
   - Provide an outline of how the research will be structured.
   - Break down the proposed chapters and their respective content.